Archdiocese of Washington

Dear [salutation],

As we enter Holy Week, we wanted to ensure you knew of the many spiritual resources the Archdiocese of Washington and our parishes have made available to you.

We first and foremost encourage you to visit your own parish's website for Holy Week Easter services offered.

More information about what the Archdiocese is doing in response to the coronavirus pandemic may be found at adw.org/coronavirus.

Please know that you are in our prayers as we enter Holy Week: That you may find peace and strength in the merciful heart of Our Lord who bears our infirmities and redeems our sufferings.

May God bless you and your loved ones.

Archdiocese of Washington

Dear [salutation],

During this Season of Lent, we have heard countless inspirational stories of pastors working with staff and volunteer leadership, not only to provide spiritual resources for their parishioners during this time away from the Mass and Sacraments, but also to ensure the continued operations of the parish. These activities exemplify that the parish is truly the center of Catholic life in our local communities!

As we enter Holy Week, unfortunately, the COVID-19 pandemic will continue to pose extraordinary challenges on parish resources. That is why Archbishop Gregory invites you below to join him in directing your support to parishes during this critical time.

There are two wonderful ways to positively impact parishes:

Support your own parish

Review, renew or begin sustained online offertory giving at your parish and make a special Easter gift to your parish.

Support parishes in need

Parish Fund, which allows us to respond to the most urgent financial needs among our parishes.

Our archdiocesan community has always come together to support one another during times of need. Thank you for your generous support during these trying times – your gift will ensure the faith and good works of the Church continue to help your community and those in need. God bless you this Holy Week.
