

Dcn. Zach Brasseur

Dcn. Zach Brasseur was born and raised in St. Petersburg with his three sisters by his parents, Brad and Kathy. After graduating from St. Pete High, he attended Saint Leo University where he studied history and theology. After four years of college, he entered the seminary for the Diocese of St. Petersburg. The seeds of a priestly vocation were planted at a young age when Zach was blessed to be acquainted with so many happy and joyful priests who simply loved being priests. Through involvement in Life Teen and campus ministry in college, as well as a deepening prayer life, the Lord invited him to consider more seriously what was already moving in his heart. So, in the fall of 2015 he gave his first “yes” to the Lord and began seminary formation. In April 2021, he was ordained a transitional deacon and anticipates priestly ordination in May 2022.

Dcn. Zach is an avid Tampa Bay sports fan with a particular affinity for the Rays. He also has a burgeoning interest in soccer. In his spare time, Dcn. Zach enjoys golf, listening to punk and blue grass music, and putting pineapple on pizza.
