FOREWORD

The Florida Catholic Conference Accreditation Program was adopted by the Florida Bishops during the 1970-1971 school year. This program, developed by state diocesan educational leaders in consultation with school pastors and principals, is now in its fifth revision and has been approved for use in the Catholic schools by the Florida Bishops.

The standards of this accreditation program are derived from sound educational research and influenced by Catholic educational philosophy which integrates faith and values with life and learning. These standards assist schools in working through a dynamic self-evaluation process which promotes accountability and on-going excellence. Further, these standards, by serving as a basis to ensure quality in the schools, justify the faith that parents and others have placed in them.

Catholic schools educate and contribute to the formation of a healthy and morally sound lifestyle. They are a tool for evangelization and have a reputation for quality education, discipline in the classroom, and transmission of Catholic values. The Florida Catholic Conference Accreditation program is designed to enhance all of these areas.

Since its beginning more than three decades ago, this accreditation program has ushered in many positive changes and has ensured the continuation in improvement of Catholic schools in Florida. We are indeed thankful for and proud of the dedicated pastors, administrators, teachers and others who have made this possible. Their efforts are a blessing to this program and to the children in Catholic schools in Florida.

*Most Reverend John C. Favalora, D.D.
Metropolitan Archbishop of the Province of Miami
President, the Florida Catholic Conference*

INTRODUCTORY LETTER

Dear Colleague:

In the late 1960's, the Bishops of the State of Florida proposed that all of their elementary schools would be accredited by the Florida Catholic Conference. In 1970, the FCC established an Accreditation Committee which developed the first set of principles and standards which every Catholic school would need to meet in order to be accredited. This began the efforts to continually improve education in Catholic schools. In particular, the Bishops were eager that the Catholic identity and mission of each school would be reflected in the standards. In 1995, at the request of the Bishop of Savannah, Georgia, the schools of his diocese began participation in the accreditation program of the Florida Catholic Conference.

Over the years, the Florida Catholic Conference Accreditation Committee has regularly reviewed and revised its Accreditation Standards in order to continually improve the quality of Catholic education in the State of Florida. This current document contains the fifth revision of the Standards.

This fifth revision was used as a working document during the 2001-2002 school year. This was to allow sufficient time for schools to transition to the revised standards. During that time, the Accreditation Committee requested input concerning these revised standards from those who are responsible for the schools. This working draft was revised again on the basis of input that was received. After this final revision, the standards were approved by the FCC Accreditation Committee, the FCC Schools Committee, and the Bishops of Florida and Savannah, Georgia and are to be officially implemented with the beginning of the 2002-2003 school year.

In the area of personnel, it should be understood that a person who was hired for a particular position before 2002-2003 would continue to be governed by the standards that were in place at the time of hiring. However, the "grandfathered" person is expected to continue annual progress and updating

- The first section of this document contains the revised Standards
- The second section (Appendix A) contains "Indicators." Indicators are not standards but are intended as suggested action steps which are given in order to help the school understand the intent of the standards and provide further clarification.

It is our hope that these new standards will help the Catholic schools of Florida and the Diocese of Savannah, Georgia, to become even better places of learning and faith development.
